Kellogg & Andelson Accountancy Corporation Merges with Vogel & Ayres, Certified Public Accountants

K&A Launches Community Association Division

Woodland Hills, CA — Kellogg & Andelson Accountancy Corporation (“K&A”), a leading provider of accounting services in Southern California, announced today that it merged with Vogel & Ayres, Certified Public Accountants (“V&A”), a well-established Los Angeles and Ventura based accounting firm specializing in community associations.

After many years of collaboration, Gary Vogel and Robert Ayres formed Vogel & Ayres in 2003. Over the last decade, Gary and Robert have built one of the most successful community association accounting practices in California, having served over 750 associations, and becoming a leader in their field.

V&A will become the new Community Association Services Division of K&A, with Gary and Robert heading the division. Adding V&A to K&A will not only create a presence for K&A in Ventura, but will also bring a wealth of expertise for community associations. “We are pleased to welcome the clients and professional staff of Vogel & Ayres to Kellogg & Andelson. We look forward to continuing to provide the high quality of service V&A’s clients have come to expect,” said Christian Payne, President and Chief Executive Officer of Kellogg & Andelson.

“We have been extremely impressed by the innovation and dedicated professional staff of K&A. We are excited to combine our firms to better serve the needs of our clients,” said Gary Vogel.
